

Why File Electronically?

Because Electronic Filing is more accurate and results in a faster refund. Your tax return is processed within 24 hours. It's computer-checked for errors, then date/time stamped by IRS, verifying that your tax return has been accepted and your refund is on its way!

How Is It Done?

First, to have your refund(s) direct-deposited, you must include your bank information in the designated area on your Federal Form 1040. If you do not want direct deposit, checks by mail take an extra five days to receive. Next, complete the Authorization Form on the following page, including your payment option, and fax the form with your tax information to us at (800) 794-8851.

Frequently Asked Questions:

• Which States can you e-file?

We can e-file all States that have an income tax, and there's no extra charge for State e-file if you fax your State tax return along with your Federal return. NOTE: The following States require their own e-file Authorization Form to be filed with the State tax return: AL, AR, CO, DC, IL, LA, MA, MS, NM, OK, SC, VA, and VT. Call our toll-free number or visit our web site to retrieve the e-file Authorization Form for your State.

• Is my refund guaranteed to be on time?

Make sure you read the "Electronic Filing Precautions" on the Authorization Form for situations which may delay or offset your refund. We've seen some returns (under 5%) delayed a week by IRS for a "compliance review." We guarantee our work: if we make a mistake which results in a delay on your refund, we will reimburse our filing fee.

• What if there's an error on my tax return?

We'll call you if the error is a simple one that can be resolved over the phone. IRS regulations prohibit us from changing your refund by more than $14.00 without your consent. If the errors are too extensive to resolve over the phone, we have the option of mailing the return back to you with a description of the errors. You would then be required to submit a corrected tax return to us, or forfeit the filing fee.

• When is the fee debited from my bank account?

Should you choose this option, expect your account to be debited the $39.00 fee about 2 or 3 days after we receive your return.
